

FALL ACCESS PROGRAMS

Designed to engage individuals with special needs, programs are facilitated by museum educators specially trained to work with visitors who have developmental, learning, and physical disabilities. Advanced registration is required.

Access Educator Workshop

Tuesday, November 16

Art, Magic, and Houdini

4:00- 5:45 pm

This professional development session for special education teachers includes an examination of original objects, photographs, posters and contemporary art along with interactive activities. Light snacks will be served. FREE.

Access Family Workshop

Sunday, February 13

Ages 5-15 | 10:30am-noon

Ages 18 and up | 2:00-3:30pm

Explore special exhibition, Houdini: Art and Magic in this program for individuals with developmental or learning disabilities and their family members. Includes gallery activities, an art project, and snacks. FREE.

Access Group Tours

We are pleased to offer FREE tours this fall to schools and organizations serving children and adults with special needs. Tours explore themes such as archaeology, art materials, and animals in art. Advanced reservations are required.

Touch Tours for Blind/Visually Impaired Students

This tactile experience allows students who are blind or visually impaired to explore archaeology and the ancient world using artifact replicas and textured objects. Tours utilize verbal description techniques and include a hands-on art project. Advanced reservations are required.

Please call 212.423.3256 or email: schoolaccess@thejm.org to inquire about reservations.

For more information visit:

TheJewishMuseum.org/EducatorAccess

Access programs are funded by a generous grant from the J.E. and Z.B. Butler Foundation and other donors.

Image credit: National Print and Engraving Company, Chicago, Harry Houdini, King of Cards, c. 1895, lithograph. Museum of the City of New York, Gift of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hinson.