

Capturing Your Community High School Student Photo Contest!

In conjunction with this exhibition, South African Photographs: David Goldblatt, the Education Department invites high school students to submit original photographs which convey the unique character of their own community through images of the people who live and work there.

Contest Rules

Theme How can you capture the essence of your community in a photograph? What story does your photograph tell about your neighborhood and the people who live there? Submit an original photograph that addresses these questions.

Please visit the Museum or view David Goldblatt's exhibition online at: www.thejewishmuseum.org/goldblattmines before sending in submissions.

Competition Entries will be judged by a panel of curators and educators. No entry fee is required.

Prizes: Gift certificates to photography retail store. Prizes will be awarded in October 2010.

Winning photographs will be exhibited on The Jewish Museum's website.

Photograph Color or black-and-white photograph (digital photographs will be accepted.) Image size: no larger than 12 x 16 in.

Deadline All entries must be received by Thursday, September 16, 2010. Mail photograph and entry form to:
